

Advancing Women Conference Student Sponsorship Program

Be recognised for supporting young women in agriculture studies at Canadian universities and colleges through the AWC Student Sponsorship Program. AWC provides these future leaders with:

- excellent skills and tools needed to succeed and be an effective leader
- real life examples of what is possible to achieve as a leader in the agriculture sector
- excellent examples of the career they can build for themselves
- networking opportunities with producers, entrepreneurs, board members and executives
- knowledge they need to be good advocates for the industry.

With your help, we can bring more young leaders together to listen, learn, network and grow.

These young women are our future leaders and we are proud to build this community. To date approximately 120 students have been sponsored to attend AWC. Each conference we receive rave reviews of the conference from the students. We are confident that each young leader leaves AWC with new contacts, more skills and tools to help them succeed as a leader, and greater confidence that there is a career for them in agriculture.

Sponsorship of a student is $1200.00 plus taxes per student. This covers their registration, meals at the conference, workshops, and accommodations at the host hotel.

In turn, you will receive the following recognition:

- your logo and corporate profile on the AWC website, conference signage and printed program, on our outbound emails going to a database of over 9000 ag contacts and through our social media channels
- your name featured next to the student profile in the website and on the printed program
- access to reach out to the student prior to the conference and during the conference.

We hope that you will also attend the conference and visit with your sponsored student and take the opportunity to learn about their passion and vision and share your experiences.
